sugaring vs waxing - the benefits

Ease of Use

- Lower application temperature results in significantly reduced redness and irritation, ensuring a more pleasant experience – especially for clients with sensitive skin.
- The Sugaring gel can be initially warmed in the microwave, saving electricity by eliminating the necessity for heating pots to be kept on for extended periods.
- No mess, the sugaring gel container can be placed directly into the heating pot.

Clean up

- Eco friendly – simply washes off with warm water.
- No allergic reactions or lost tan from use of the chemical solvents used in waxing clean up.

Effectiveness

- a. Less discomfort. Unlike waxing, sugaring adheres to hair only and does not strip skin.
- b. Gentle on skin – contains only natural ingredients and NO solvents
- c. Sugaring strips are ideally matched to the gel using hydro entangling technology.

Cost benefits

- a. Economical. Because only a thin layer of sugaring solution is needed, less product is needed per waxing session. Hence less product and strips is used per sugaring session.
- b. Pre-waxing prep and post waxing cleanup times are significantly reduced therefore less labour intensive.
- c. Lower temperature settings for heaters (power savings)
- d. Easy clean cartridge roller heads can be sterilized and reused.

the history of sugaring

The earliest reference to hair removal comes from ancient Egypt with hieroglyphics vividly describing how slave girls serving Pharaoh were expected to remove all body hair. Sugaring, one of the oldest forms of hair removal, was the Egyptian method of choice where a simple solution of sugar, lemon and water was blended to make a sugaring paste.

Now available in New Zealand, Australia and the UK, Phâro Salon Sugaring Formulations offer salons a professional, eco-friendly hair removal system and a natural alternative to waxing. The Phâro logo features the hieroglyphic image of water to emphasize the water soluble, natural base which makes this product infinitely superior to waxing products.

benefits of Phâro sugar waxing

- Sugar waxing is an excellent treatment for conditions like psoriasis and eczema as it does not adhere to live skin cells, effectively eliminating fears of skin lifting.
- Unlike waxes, the sugaring gel can be applied to an area several times and will cause significantly less redness and discomfort to the skin.
- The sugaring gel is applied slightly above body temperature, eliminating any fear of burning the skin.
- Sugar promotes healing and prevents infection, the gel also contains Manuka Honey, rich in protein minerals and vitamins with antibacterial properties to protect and heal sensitive skin.
- Phâro Salon Sugaring formula delivers superior results and, when coverage is considered along with the cost of pre wax and post wax products and cleaning time, it is more cost effective in pricing to waxes.
- Phâro Salon Sugaring gel contains all natural ingredients including aloe vera, lemon juice and kiwifruit and a captivating sweet fragrance of Manuka honey to add a luxurious new dimension to the hair removal experience.
